

MISSION BRIEFING – GATHERING DUST

An anonymous vendor has contacted you with a job to retrieve some valuable goods from a small shipping depot on the outskirts of the Barrens. The depot was recently set upon by the Purge but with potentially valuable and dangerous outbound cargo sitting unsupervised, pressure has mounted for the depot to open its doors again and resume business. Some employees have returned (possibly at gunpoint) to the depot to continue their work, despite the threat of more Purge presence.

Your kind sponsor has requested you visit this shipping depot and personally retrieve the cargo due to them. Do that and they'll pay you a handsome sum.

Players: 1-2 Expansions Needed: Purge Outbreak

PRIMARY OBJECTIVE

Reward: 15UA

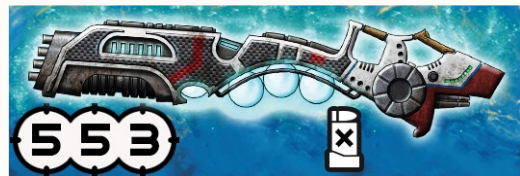

The large crates in this mission are stacked as shown on the map. The objective token should be placed in the green crate on top of the stack. This can only be Searched by a Trader that has climbed onto one of the yellow crates using an effortless action.

The crew that gets it back to their ship will receive a 15UA reward.

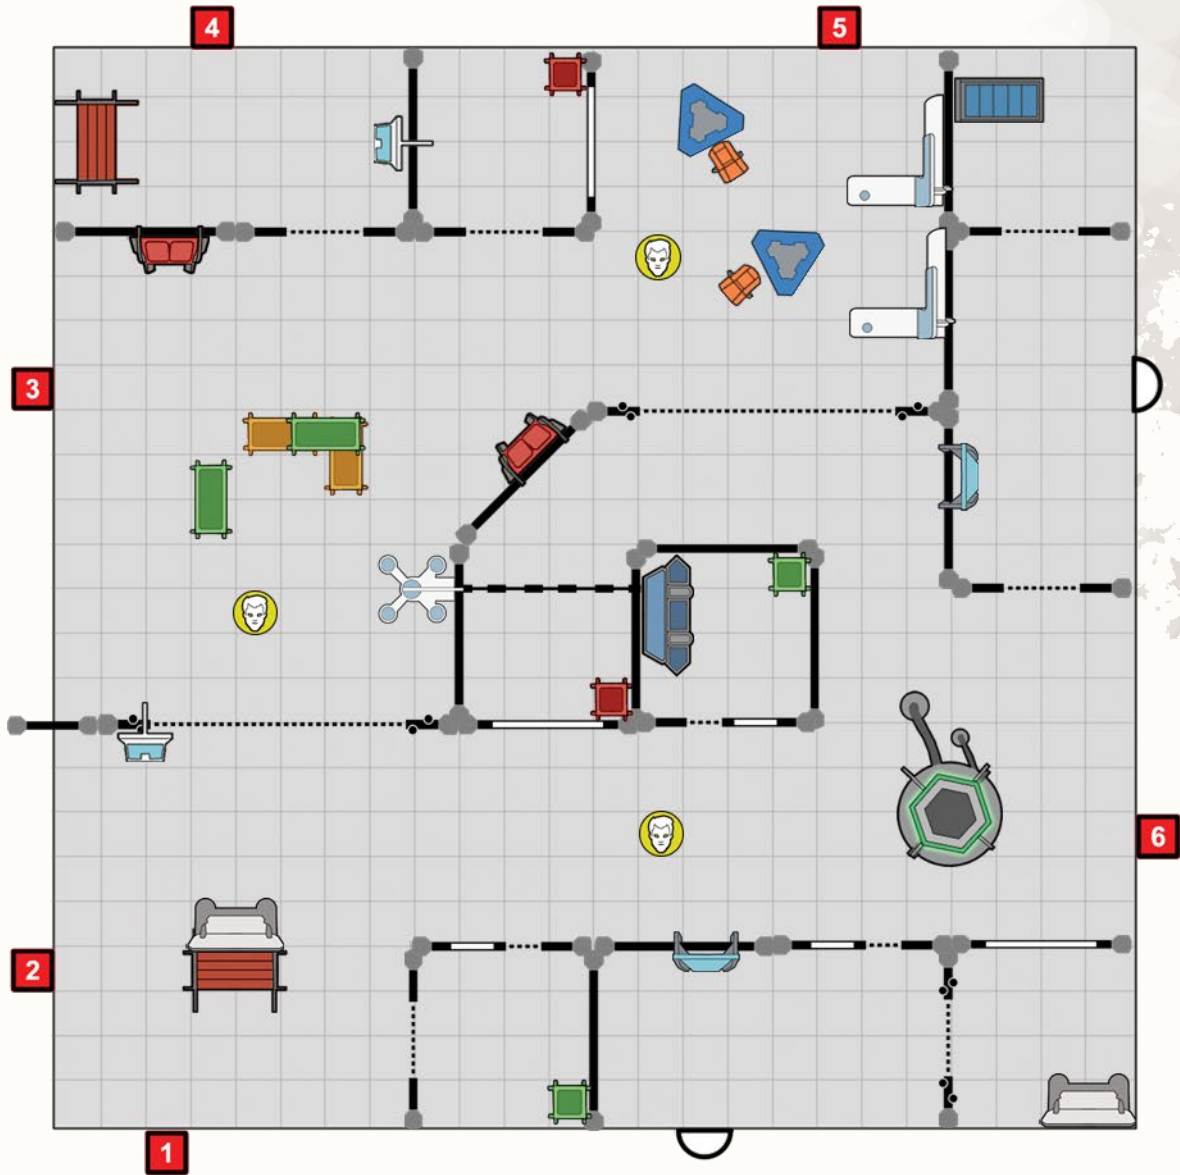

SECONDARY OBJECTIVE

Reward: Enormous Firepower

You've heard rumour that Purge attacks are often followed by a 'clean-up crew' of sorts – the constructs known as the Gatherers. If you can take down a Purge 'Mother', you can salvage valuable assets that can be used to assemble a powerful new weapon.
